Your City Your Voice

A Guide to Staying Informed & Getting Engaged

When you get involved with your city government, you are making San Luis Obispo a better place!

Look inside for ways you can stay informed and get engaged.

Stay Engaged

Open City Hall

Open City Hall is an online forum for civic engagement. Read what others are saying about important topics, then post your own statement. City officials read your feedback and use it in the decision process.

Organizations & Groups

Are you a member of an organization or group interested in city issues? Sign up to be notified about opportunities and partner or volunteer with the city to engage your members on issues important to them.

City Council Meetings

First and third Tuesdays, 5:30 p.m.
City Council Chamber
990 Palm St.

Meeting agendas and agenda packets are available one week in advance at slocity.org.

Or, sign up to be e-notified when a new agenda is posted at slocity.org/agendas.

Can't make it to the City Council meeting? Review the meeting recordings online at slocity.org/watch or on cable Channel 20.

Volunteer

Serve on an Advisory Board, Commission or Committee

Advisory bodies are groups of community members who advise City staff and the City Council on public policy and related issues that affect the future of the community. Any resident can apply to be considered for a position on the following advisory bodies:

- Administrative Review Board
- Architectural Review Commission
- Construction Board of Appeals
- Council Compensation Committee
- Cultural Heritage Committee
- Diversity, Equity, Inclusion (Task Force)
- Housing Authority Board
- Human Relations Commission
- Mass Transportation Committee
- Parks and Recreation Commission
- Personnel Board
- Planning Commission
- Promotional Coordinating Committee
- Revenue Enhancement Oversight Commission
- Tourism Business Improvement District Board
- Tree Committee

Visit slocity.org/jobs to view openings and apply online.

Volunteer with City Departments

Search many volunteer opportunities through City departments from trail maintenance to police department volunteers, there's something for anyone who wants to give their time. Find the database on the Parks & Recreation page at slocity.org/volunteer.
